

ARTEMISIA

Fulfill your creative design

DESIGNER MARCO LASCIALFARI

The energy of a flame caught in the moment of its dance. Artemisia is the fire light framed in a cameo. For affixing to the wall or hanging in suspension, the lamp integrates with elegance whether in a traditional illumination or in a more modern design concept. A rainfall of lights suspended in front of a wall of glass recreates the warmth of Nordic traditions, where the protagonists are candles, but in a new way projected in the future. The shimmering steel of Artemisia exalts without adding weight to any type of wall or any style of home decor. Left in suspension in a vivacious dance of lights, the lamp fills up its surroundings with emotional rain. Once again, Martin Eden succeeds in creating an atmosphere with the essential lines of design, playing with both the filled and empty spaces, an idea that sparks the essence of emotions.
